

TWO FOR THE ROW'D

ABOUT

Two for the Row'd is an Irish travel-media brand based in Carlow, launched in July 2025 by husband-and-wife duo Nicola Rowan and Padraig Doyle.

Nicola holds a degree in Journalism and French, teaches French and presents the Power Surge rock classics show on Carlow FM. Padraig is a team leader with Bank of Ireland and host of the popular Carlow podcast "The How Is He?". Together, we bring storytelling, broadcast experience and humour to every destination.

We make honest, practical and funny short-form reels — plus destination guides on twofortherowd.com — that make travel feel achievable. We're one of very few Irish travel couples creating personality-led travel reels, from local heritage and hidden gems to European adventures.

Our aim is simple: to inspire journeys people can actually take.

WHAT WE CREATE

DESTINATION REELS

Short-form video showcasing Irish and European destinations — including lesser-known heritage sites, hidden gems and local experiences.

HOTEL REVIEWS

Honest, personality-led reviews of accommodation across Ireland and abroad — giving viewers the real picture before they book.

BREW FOR TWO — COFFEE SERIES

Our coffee series touring independent cafés around Ireland, celebrating local hospitality and helping viewers discover great spots.

EXPERIENCES & EVENTS

Walking tours, cultural attractions, festivals and adventure experiences — bringing destinations to life through what's on offer there.
